CITY OF SYDNEY

Business for the week has continued with an apparent satisfying degree of stir and animation, due in a measure, to the occasional movements of foreign vessels, as, since our last issue we have to report the arrival of the schooner W P Meyer and bark H W Almy from San Francisco, both with full cargoes of assorted merchandisc, the schooners Venus from Humboldt with lumber, and Western Home from Kahului in ballast. This morning we have the Russian gunboat Djiguitt, from Valparaiso. The departures for the same period embrace the J A Falkinburg for Portland, the Ells and Eustace for San Francisco, and the brig Violet for the South Seas, and chooner Vivid for Fanning's Island with supplies The auction sale of curiosities, de., ex Morning Star on Wednesday last at Mr Adams', drew on, an apprecia tive and eathusiastic audience which must have resulted very satisfactory to all parties concerned. We still hear murmurs of the prospect of our books balancing on the wrong side at the end of 1879, from the very heavy orders that have been sent abroad for merchandise, machinery, implements, &c., to meet the needs of our growing sugar Industry

The prospects therefor to the minds of many of our thinking men are, that the stringency of our money market offers no early release, nor are we in a position to look for such easy exchange accommodation as is desired In view of these facts, and in connection with the conparative safety for investments which these islands offer to capitalists, it is contemplated by some of our people o present the opportunity shortly to the monied men of the Pacific Coast and elsewhere, for the introduction of foreign capital to these islands. To many of our leading men, it seems that while so much unrest is felt among capitalists with money lying idle on the coast, that the present is a most opportune moment to secure the help high our expanding interests need, The Kalakaura, Grace Roberts, Discovery and Lady Lampson are on the berth for San Francisco, and the Mattle Macleay for Portland. Next week, there will be several parcels of real setate offered at auction. On Monday, the lease for 15 years of a tract of 500 acres pasture land in Robala, and on Saturday, of a number of parcels in and around Honolulu.

Our next arrival from the coast will probably be the Rosario or Leo, with a mail, though the D C Murray may almost be considered as due about the same time. ALONG THE WHARVES.

THE PACIFIC Commercial Advertiser.

SATURDAY, MARCH 8.

WE notice that the S. F. Chronicle copies our Editorial of Dec. 7 on the subject of a Trans-Pacific Telegraph Cable, and the Boston Commercial Bulletin, commenting on the same, says: "The Act passed by the Hawaiian Legislature for the encouragement of electric telegraphy, while it was sufficiently liberal in the privileges granted for telegraphic purposes, was studiously formed to prevent any monopoly, as expressed in the words-' any company now incorporated in any foreign country or that may hereafter be incorporated in this Kingdom or any foreign country,' and this has probably prevented the consummation of the desire for the trans Pacific cable . It is a matter of much doubt whether the Hawaiian government will give any company a monopoly of this business, and indeed the commerce of the world can better wait a while than to have a monopoly of the business conferred upon one corporation. The experience of the past has not been such as to encourage a desire for their repetition. Eventually there will be business enough to warrant the laying of the cable without the guaranty of a monopoly, but if fair prices are established there would be no rival for many years. The need of such a cable can hardly be overstated, or its value to the commerce of the world overestimated."

THE AGE We live in appears to be one in which cheating and fraud run rampant. Aside from large defalcations and enormous bank failures in Europe and America, dishonesty percolates down into the requirements of every day life. In the adulteration of articles of food governments have hardly yet begun to interfere, but when it comes to articles of general consumption wherein the safety of life and property may be endangered, such as kerosene, then the law interposes and fixes a standard below which the article must not be imported or sold, under penalty of a fine. One day this week a small shop-keeper,-a Chinaman-was fined $50 in the Police Court of this city for having sold a bottle of kerosene oil which was below the legal standard, it having exploded in a lamp and nearly caused a conflagration. The testimony in Court was to the effect that the shop-keeper bought the oil from a large dealer who in turn bought it by the quantity from an importer, the fatter having verbally guaranteed the article sold to be up to the legal standard, which, however, it proved not to be. The question recurs,-was it equity, or even law, to fine the small shop-keeper, while the importer, who violated the law in the first instance, goes scot

REFERENCE to the probability of the Anti-Chinese Bill becoming a law, the S. F. Chronicle asks " where shall John go?" and concludes that "there is a possible outlook for him in Kalakaua's Kingdom." Mr. H. W. Severance, sugar lands-were interviewed by a Chronicle reporter, and their views as to Island matters are stated at length. Mr. Severance is represented as saying that-

.. The natives will not work, and although several colonies of Portuguese have gone out they do not appear to give satisfaction. The Chinese are generally preferred on the plantations, and he was of the opinion that they would ultimately be employed to the exclusion of all other labor. * * * If the Chinese in California refused to go to the Islands, the planters there would undoubtedly make arrangements to import large numbers direct from Hongkong." Mr. Claus Spreckles, on the subject of Chinese labor at the Hawaiian Islands said that-"He was opposed to it, except on a limited scale and under proper restrictions. Mr. S. eckels now has a few Chinamen employed on his plantation, but he gives the preferance in all cases to whites, paying the latter double the wages Chinese can be secured for. He intends dividing his large estate up into farms of 50 and 100 acres one and leasing them to white men with families, giving them one-third of the sugar crop annually. He will put in about 3000 acres of sugar cane the present year, and will increase annually until the whole tract is under cultivation. He is now, through his agent in Maui, engaged in completing an elaborate system of irrigation, building refiner-ies, constructing a railroad eight miles in length, making a harbor and putting everything in readiness for getting to work, as the sugar planting season begins in August. Mr. Spreckels's outlay will exceed $1,500,000. When asked if he did not fear that by a large influx of Chinese to the Hawaiian Islands, at first as menials, those astute barbarians might not in time gain such a foothold that it would be difficult to control them, Mr. Spreckels said that he had given considerable thought to the subject, and had become so much alarmed at the possibility of (such a result that he had had several conversations with King Kalakua when last at Honolulu. That monarch, he said, agreed with him, and the policy of the Hawaiian Government now was to discourage any general immigration of the Chinese or coolie element.

In REGARD to the supply and consumption of sugar in the United States, we have gleaned some facts from our exchanges, which we reproduce here, as of interest to our Island readers. The sugar crop of the world, cane and beet together, which found its way to the consuming market, in 1878, was larger than before in several years. This unusual supply carried down prices lower than had been witnessed for a long period-since 1861-and this in turn was not without a stimulating effect upon the movements in the article, so that, notwithstanding the disorganization that existed in industrial forces of the United States to a greater or less extent during 1878, and the depression and embarrassment that bore heavily upon the business and financial classes the world over, the consumption of sugar was not only maintained at its former level but increased, both in the United States and in Europe, even in a more marked degree in the latter than in the former. In a statistical work published at New Orleans, treating of the products of the State of Louisiana, the yield of sugar for 1877-78, is set down at 127,753 hhds., against a yield of 169,-331 hhds, the preceding crop year. The prospeet is said to be full of promise for a crop the present season larger than any made since the outbreak of the civil war, the estimates ranging from 180,000 to 190,000 hhds. The N. Y. Shipping List sums up the consumption of raw sugar in the United States for the year ending December 31, 1878, a follows :

.745,25098,999 The following statement exhibits the consumption of the country for the past fifteen years:

666,194 710,369

The best authorities estimate the crop of beet sugar now being made in Europe at 1,310,000 tons, a decrease from that of 1877-8, of 110,827

Statistics show that the sugar consumption of pole. And so, after all the talk about opposition to paper money some years ago, to we have it, and little or no gold in circulation. In this convection we beg to remark, that prognostications in the quantity taken in 1877. At the beginning of the present year the stock in ports of the mh 3t H. HACKFELD & CO.

The conclusion arrived at is, that overlooking the field from a statistical stand-point, the prospect for a maintainance of at least the present prices is not discouraging. The most expected increase of cane sugar for the current year, as compared with the previous year, does not excced 150,000 tons, with probably a small decrease in the beet sugar crop of Europe; and if the consumption of the two hemispheres be increased this year to the same extent it was the previous one, this promised additional supply of the Journal for Jan. 22d, is a picture and pen decane sugar will all be needed.

Extension of the Honolulu Iron Works. Among the many valuable and permanent improvements to be noticed in and about this city, which are a direct result of the impetus given to our industries by the operation of the Receprocity Treaty, we may particularly mention the recent central and most convenient place is fixed a substantial ten-ton crane, which sweeps two-thirds of the shop. The cupolas, two in number, blown by a No. 2 Root's Foundry Blower, are capable of melting six tons of Iron per hour; so that the largest casting now on the Islands, or likely to be brought here, can be duplicated without difficulty. The core oven, which is 15 by 20 feet, is capable of taking in the largest vacuum pan mould over likely to be required for plantation use on even the largest of our sugar estates.

The Brass Foundry, an adjoining brick building, about 20 by 30 feet, has three furnaces capable of casting pieces of from 700 to 800 lbs. weight.

The new Pattern Shop, which is also of brick, joines on to the Foundry, and fronts along Marine street. This building, which is 20 feet in height, has the lower portion fitted as a storehouse for wrought iron, steam and water pipes, etc., the upper portion or pattern shop, being about 58 by 48 feet, gives ample room for all the wood working machines, benches, &c. required for the whole

A new 40-horse power boiler, of the type lately introduced in plantation work by Mr. Alex. Hutchnson, of Kau, supplies, through a system of pipes embedded in asbestos covering, steam required for the machine-shop Engine, two steam ham. mers, pattern-shop Engine and boiler-shop En-

Besides the above named improvements, a new fitting shop of brick and iron was built about eighteen months ago, and this, together with the stone building fitted for offices, and store house affords the works much increased facilities for doing

Several important additions of new tools have also been made to the Machine and Blacksmith shops, such as : A 48 inch by 20 foot, screw cutting lathe, and two others of smaller dimensions; one boring and turning mill-turns 8 feet in diameter and Mr. Claus Spreckles, of the California Sugar by 8 feet in height; a hydraulic press, capable of The Brit bk Lady Lampson has hauled off into the Refinery-who has large interests on Maui in exerting a pressure of 325 tons; and a large steam hammer. These tools, together with a large iron planer, 72 by 72 inches by 16 feet, to arrive next month, constitute a very efficient plant, second to none on the Pacific Coast and fully equal to the requirements of these Islands.

The Honolulu Iron Works Company, (of which Mr. Alex. Young is the efficient and gentlemanly Manager) having spared no pains in procuring the most approved appliances as well as a high class of skilled workmen in the various departments, expect to be able to do justice to any work in the mechanical line that may be required in the Last evening, March 7th, the occupation of the new premises was celebrated by the Company by a "house-warming." beginning at eight o'clock with songs and choruses, followed by dancing, and a sumptuous supper at half-past ten o'clock. The rooms were handsomely festooned with flags and decorated with flowers. At the supper. Mr. Young, the manager was pleasantly surprised by the presentation by T. H. Davies, Esq., on behalf of the employees of the Company, of a splendid gold watch, costing $250, made by E. Howard & Co. Boston-a finer piece of workmanship as a time; piece cannot be produced anywhere. A very large party of ladies and gentlemen enjoyed the hospi-tality of the Iron Works Company, and all "went merry as a marriage bell." We will give full particulars of this pleasant affair in our next.
